May 2022 Orgy Season

Legend has it that the WHRB Orgy® tradition began over seventy-five years ago, in the spring of 1943. At that time, it is said that one Harvard student then a staff member of WHRB, returned to the station after a particularly difficult exam and played all of Beethoven's nine symphonies consecutively (from 78 rpm records) to celebrate the end of a long, hard term of studying. The idea caught on, and soon the Orgy® concept was expanded to include live jazz, rock, hip-hop, blues, and even sports Orgies.

The Orgy® tradition lives on today at WHRB. During the Reading and Exam Periods of Harvard College, WHRB presents marathon-style musical programs devoted to a single composer, performer, genre, or subject.

Sunday, May 1

3:00 am TRAIN TRACKS

Train Tracks is centered around songs about, reminiscent of, or otherwise affiliated with trains. It centers themes of nostalgia and a bygone American past. As scholar Rebecca Solnit asserts, the invention of railroads proved the "annihilation of time and space," fostering significantly greater efficiency and reliability in connecting people with each other and serving as the catalyst of American industrialization. Tune into Train Tracks to explore these—and other—themes.

7:00 am CHANSON FRANÇAISE ORGY

This orgy is an introduction to the "Chanson Française" tradition of song, a genre from the mid-twentieth century in France (and Belgium in one case: Jacques Brel). Each of these singers is remarkable in their own way, but watch for common characteristics. For instance, some of the singers such as Georges Brassens, Édith Piaf, and Claude Nougaro use a throaty trilled "r," which is quite difficult or even impossible for many people to reproduce. For a sneak peak to the Orgy, be sure to check out the "Top 10" article on WHRB's website: <https://www.whrb.org/archive/top-ten-chanson-francaise>

11:00 am MEMORIAL CHURCH SERVICE

Preacher: The Rev. Calvon Jones, Assistant Minister, the Memorial Church of Harvard University.

12:00 pm WEIRD AL YANKOVY

Kurt Cobain called him "America's modern pop-rock genius"; along with Michael Jackson and Madonna (and later U2 and Kenny G), he is one of only five artists to have had a Top 40 hit in every decade from the 1980s to the 2010s. He is, of course, "Weird Al" Yankovic: accordionist, polka influencer, and parodist extraordinaire. Get ready for a five-hour close reading of the legacy of one of our country's most seminal artists, from his earlier pop-culture pastiches ("Like A Surgeon," "Yoda") to later, more nuanced works (the delicately existential "Skipper Dan"; the world's greatest remix of "Feel It Still"). We'll also discuss Yankovic's public persona, cult movie, failed TV show, and success in adopting new media like MTV and YouTube.

5:00 pm FROM THE TOP

6:00 pm ROOM ON FIRE: THE STROKES ORGY

From their debut album Is This It released in 2001, to their 2020 release The New Abnormal, The Strokes have been a force influencing alternative rock throughout the 21st century. This Orgy will trace their story, their influences, the band's artistic development, as well as side projects of its members. Tune in for a deep dive into their rich discography.

10:00 pm FOUND SOUND

David Byrne, Pusha T, and Godspeed You! Black Emperor have very little in common. But each uses audio found in the wider world in the creation of their music. Join us to hear how each of these and many more turn fragments of life into extraordinary music.

Monday, May 2

6:00 am BEYOND THE IRON CURTAIN

The dictator in the east is attempting to subjugate the freedom-loving people of Ukraine and erect a new Iron Curtain across Europe. Although the original was lifted more than 30 years ago with the fall of the Berlin Wall, Eastern Europe remains little seen or understood in the eyes of the western audiences. Most places in the region underwent a radical shift from authoritarian states with command economies to democratic free-market capitalist nations, the ramifications of which rippled out to every aspect of people's lives, including music. This Orgy will explore the rise and transformation of electronic music, shaped by local musical traditions, wholehearted embrace of freedom and global sounds that became accessible to creators virtually overnight.

6:00 am NUMBER SONGS 101

Ever listened to a few songs with numbers in the title and wondered what would happen if you played them in order? Well, we did the work for you. Listen to a song for each number from 1 to 100, and then a little extra for good luck. The rules? No repeat artists. Number is in the lyrics and the title. Two-digit numbers must be said as such. Lastly, the song must have musical value. Enjoy!

1:00 pm SEXTETS

8:00 pm BROKEN SOCIAL SCENE ORGY

"Tell all your friends to tell their friends to tell their other friends." Try placing indie rock ensemble Broken Social Scene on the musical map and you will end up walking in circles. Endless permutations of its fifteen members — truly dynamic artists in their own right — leads to a collective sound that flirts with cinematic Baroque pop, toys with calming ambient and instrumental sounds, and recalls suspenseful film music. We will weave through this Canadian collective's musical legacy, its talented musicians' solo careers, and all the artists inspired by their eclectic sound. Above all, this Orgy pays homage to all the wonderful people in our lives and past and future serendipitous adventures with them.

Tuesday, May 3

1:00 am LIVE ROCK MUSIC OF THE 80'S: CONCERTS BEFORE PHONE FLASHLIGHTS

This Orgy is dedicated to live albums of the 80's. While some people have very strong feelings towards live albums, there's no denying the added layer of feeling one gets from listening to the crowd roar. The 1980s was the last decade that truly had no mobile phones, meaning the people in the audience were purely living in the moment. Come revisit this magical spot in time by taking in the best live music the decade has to offer—and no, not 80's hits radio songs.

7:00 am ULTRA ACORDEON

Rise and shine and welcome to the wonderful world of accordions. Introduced to Latin America in the 19th century, this bright and versatile instrument has become a cornerstone for a multitude of performance styles, illuminating the melodies of corridos, merengue, mambos, nortenas, cumbias, and even punk. From Mexico to the Dominican Republic to Peru, the accordion breaks through barriers of nationhood as it transforms with each distinct style. Everyone's invited to the ultimate accordion performance, so join us!

Wednesday, May 4

3:30 am CHARLES MINGUS CENTENNIAL

The Jazz Spectrum brings you the Charles Mingus Centennial Orgy! The jazz bassist, pianist, and composer born in Nogales, Arizona took the jazz scene by storm with his love of collective improvisation and soulful hard bop compositions. Known for his talent as a band leader (and his fiery temper), Mingus was an uncompromising musician. He is known for his albums Ah Um, The Black Saint and the Sinner Lady, and many others to be featured over our show. We'll also hear "Epitaph," a two-hour composition discovered after Mingus's death. Join us as we spend more than 16 hours celebrating the 100th birthday of this jazz icon.

10:00 am VARIATIONS ON A THEME

Where do composers find inspiration? In this 12-hour Orgy, we'll share the works of composers who have written the material that inspired them directly into their works. While we often think of classical pieces as stand-alone works, so much music was written in conversation with existing compositions, though not always initially apparent. Together, we'll connect the dots, sharing pieces in which composers take direct musical quotations, imitate a particular style, or arrange an existing piece for a new set of instruments.

10:00 pm THE ELLIOTT SMITH ORGY

When asked what his idea of heaven was, the late Elliott Smith said: "George Jones would be singing all the time. It would be like New York in reverse. People would be nice to each other for no reason at all. And it would smell good." Or perhaps heaven is eight hours of uninterrupted play of Smith's iconic discography: from his early work in the Portland band Heatmiser to the hallmark LP Either/Or to songs released posthumously, his music lives on, both on its own and through its influence on an entire generation of indie singer-songwriters. Although frequently misconstrued as a one-dimensional "tortured artist," Smith's life as a talented multi-instrumentalist and lyricist (and avid Beatles fan) was as complex as his famously intricate, double-tracked guitar riffs.

8:00 pm SILLY BANDZ, AXE BODY SPRAY, AND BAT MITZVAH WALLFLOWERS: A MIDDLE SCHOOL ORGY, 2011 - 2014

It's the third time this week that your friends have found you hiding in the bathroom stall during lunch period. They can hear your favorite band blasting through your wired ear buds and bust open the door to find you sketching an anime version of the bass player, with whom you are in a parasocial relationship. During this Orgy, we revisit the stinky, hairy, pimply years of middle school with songs we listened to back then, and songs from now that encapsulate the purgatory state between childhood and adulthood.

Tune in to hear the comprehensive broadcast of all of Schubert's available recorded works and learn more about the early Romantic composer who forever changed music, but died too young to make any real impact.

4:30 am LOVE AND POLITICS: THE JOY OF BILLY BRAGG

Billy Bragg's career as a musician and activist has spanned almost five decades, and shows no signs of stopping anytime soon. His distinctive Essex accent and chunky electric guitar style have marked him out as a unique voice in music, as has his effortless blending of left-wing politics, bittersweet romantic stories, and evocative images of real life in his lyrics. His music never fails to produce intense emotions: he expresses worldliness and knowledge free of cynicism, choosing instead to look at a world he knows to be cruel with vulnerability and tenderness. Join us as we examine and appreciate Billy Bragg's body of work, and hopefully come away a little wiser and a little kinder.

8:00 pm HOW DO YOU WRITE A POEM

Is a song a poem? Can a poem be a song? Before these modes of expression were forced apart, they grew from the same origin: lyric set to music, lyric with meter and rhythm. "How Do You Write a Poem" will explore this trove to lift some of these remarkable recordings from the likes of Nikki Giovanni, Sonia Sanchez, and Maya Angelo, as well as the music these works of lyric responded to and were inspired by. If you tune in for the whole time, you might even hear us try our hand at writing a poem or two of our own.

11:00 pm PHILLY DIY

This Orgy is dedicated to the past and present of the thriving Philly

DIY scene. This community, fully embodying the do-it-yourself punk ethos, is the (metaphorical) birthplace of an outsized number of modern indie successes including Alex G., Japanese Breakfast, Hop Along, and Modern Baseball. Artists and bands, both iconic and unknown, with connections to the scene will be included, from Katie Crutchfield's early folk-tinged records like Waxahatchee to the pop-punk influenced indie rock of All Dogs. This Orgy® will focus on the indie rock and punk at the heart of Philadelphia's DIY scene, but will dip its toes into other genres including pop and folk.

- Tuesday, May 10
- midnight DIASPORIC ANGST
5:00 pm AFRO-CUBAN EXCELLENCE
- Cuban music, from són to mambo to rumba and beyond, would not be possible without the contributions of African-descended musicians and artists. The blending of African rhythms and percussion with the distinctly Spanish trova tradition led to the emergence of distinctly Cuban genres of music. While paying homage to this cultural fusion, the purpose of this Orgy is to highlight the indispensable contributions of Afro-Cuban musicians in the realm of jazz, timba, rumba, and guaguanco, while recognizing that black and African-descended artists on the island and throughout the diaspora still face discrimination at the hands of the Cuban and broader Latinx communities.

Boston's most iconic musical duo, The Dresden Dolls has been painting "Brechtian punk cabaret" masterpieces since the early 2000s, continuing their song writing until 2009, and their live performances until 2018. Their unconventional and gripping music explores themes of both sexual and personal identity, womanhood, and romance. The Dolls' musical and lyric style developed keenly throughout the 2000s, a change we'll showcase throughout the Orgy.

1:00 am SAD FAIRIES AND SADDER ROBOTS

What do fairies and robots have in common? Not much, but they're all sad. Delve into the fantastical and the non-human as we explore how sadness is expressed sonically through sober strings and, later, on sadder synths. As the program goes on, the songs will go from lightly orchestrated, fairy-like, and ethereal to industrial and far from human. Explore techno-ballads and songs of sorrow as we dive into melancholic musings in all their forms.

7:00 am LAMP

In passing, Lamp may sound like an obscure 70s band with a baroque pop, Beatlesque sound. Yet, this three piece band from Japan was formed in 2000, and created intricately written works that rival 60s and 70s hits. Their soft, complex harmonies, enchanting vocals, and unusual instrumentations make for a unique and unparalleled listening experience. In this Orgy, we will dive deep into Lamp's discography and make them fall in love with the band.

8:00 pm THE PLOT THICKENS...

Infatuated by the power of song to develop a narrative, this Orgy gives all of the joy of reading a good book (with none of the work)!

Thursday, May 12

midnight EPHEMERAL YOUTH

The Ephemeral Youth Orgy explores coming-of-age maturation as one sheds the skin of their former adolescence. Throughout this program, the melancholic hum of a guitar—accompanied by evocative voices, themes of religion, tragedy, and hope, and lyrics that resonate with one's soul—will make even the youngest listeners reminiscent of a life they have yet to live.

6:30 am VIDEO GAME JAZZ

Video game music is for most not the first thing someone thinks about when they hear the word "jazz," but for some, they often are one and the same. The way in which video game music is often made to be repeatedly listened to and memorable, offering enough content to work with but not overwhelm the listener, makes it a perfect place for jazz musicians to express themselves. And this is precisely the case; in this Orgy, focused on video game jazz, both in games and in out, we'll be listening to the creative ways in which artists have combined their passions for these seemingly unrelated realms.

midnight THE UEMATSU FINAL FANTASY ORGY

Final Fantasy is a series of Japanese role-playing video games, changing with new technologies to present sweeping epic worlds and stories. All the music for first nine games over nearly thirty years was composed by one man: Nobuo Uematsu. Starting out as a self-taught pianist until joining the small company Squaresoft in 1986, Uematsu was the main composer for the series and also contributed to other games. As video game sound technologies advanced, Uematsu pushed his music further, drawing inspiration from many influences including classical symphonies, jazz, progressive rock, new wave, folk music, and even Elton John.

8:00 am JUDY GARLAND ORGY

America's favorite kid sister, wholesome girl next door, troubled star, and gay icon, Judy Garland (1922–1969) lived many complicated lives. Rising to fame in The Wizard of Oz (1939), Garland dazzled audiences for decades with her versatile acting and robust, resonant contralto voice. Her 1961 appearance at Carnegie Hall is often called “the greatest night in show business history.” Less happily, her too-short career is emblematic of how Hollywood mistreated and exploited the young women who made it money. On the centenary of Judy Garland’s birth, WHRB pays tribute to a great Minnesotan and a legend of cinema, recording, and the concert stage.

2:00 pm FRANCK ORGY

Belgian-born composer César-Auguste Jean-Guillaume Hubert Franck (1822-1890) had an exceptional influence on Romantic music. As teacher, organist, and mentor he was beloved by audiences and Paris Conservatoire students, to whom he was known as Père Franck. Yet his compositional output was relatively small, both in number and scope – he wrote dozens of songs and chamber pieces, yet only one symphony. Two centuries after his birth, WHRB will pay tribute to César Franck, featuring works both well-known and undeservedly obscure.
